MAYOR'S EFFORTS TO ERADICATE VICE

Opening of the Democratic Campaign Saturday Evening Next.

GENERAL AND PERSONAL

Evening Star Bureau, No. 529 King Street, Telephone No. 106.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., October 11, 1897.

It has been openly hinted at intervals lately that policy games have been again opened in their old haunts in this city, but no attempt has as yet been made to arrest any of the offenders. In fact, it is believed that many members of the police force are afraid to put their hands on the matter since Sergeant Smith and Officer Fergusson have been made to travel such a hard road on account of their policy raids of last winter.

It is known, however, that Sergeant Smith has been at work for some time gathering evidence against these policy men, and when the time is ripe they will be raided. Sunday liquor selling is also said to be on the verge of a raid.

This morning Mayor Simpson, who has all along been very lenient with the men, trusting that they would do their duty, decided to take a very firm stand. He has issued orders that each and every man shall commence at once to note anything of a suspicious character occurring in his beat, and a written report must be made to the mayor of these matters every Monday morning. If it be found that the officers overlook any important thing they will be shifted, and if the new man falls in the same case, then the matter will be reported to the board of police commissioners, and the mayor will advise a complete reorganization of the police force.

Mayor Simpson is determined that there shall be no policy playing, gambling or Sunday liquor selling during his administration, and he has several competent and efficient officers whom he is counting on to help him out in the matter. The mayor is highly commended for this action, and is believed by many that the evils complained of will never be stamped out until there is a reorganization.

There is plenty of good material on the subject, and the officers are said to be afraid, while others are believed to be under the control of the gambling element.

The Sunday Services.

The congregations in the various churches yesterday were larger than usual. In all except the Second Presbyterian the resident rectors officiated.

The pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church was filled by Rev. A. B. Saunders of Alexandria, the pastor, Rev. J. E. Thacher, being ill. At the evening services in the Methodist Protestant Church Rev. Frank T. Benson preached the first of a series of sermons on the subject, "The Closing Year of the Nineteenth Century—The Crisis of Manhood." It was listened to by a large congregation, and of these sermons will be preached every Sunday night.

At the railroad reading rooms services were held in the large auditorium yesterday afternoon. The reorganization of the formation of the institution, and there was a large crowd in attendance. Rev. S. A. Wallis, D.D., of the Virginia Theological Seminary, was the speaker. He was assisted by the Rev. J. H. Morgan, D.D., of the same institution. The students are aided very much in their work by a committee of young men known as the "reading room workers."

Police Court.

In the police court this morning Mayor Simpson disposed of the following cases: John O'Neil, vagrancy; thirty days in the chain gang. Eda Grooms, disorderly conduct; fined $2.50. Margie Pendleton, disorderly conduct; fined $2.50. Catharine Timbers, assaulting and beating Sallie Johnson; fined $2.50. Walter Washington, disorderly conduct; fined $2.50. Walter Washington was also held on suspicion of stealing a watch from Robert Ashby. Frank Payne, refusing to work on chain gang, was given the bread and water diet.

Democratic Campaign.

The democratic campaign will open in this city Saturday night with J. Hoge Tyler, the democratic nominee for governor, as the principal speaker. Chairman O. F. Carter of the city democratic committee has called a meeting of the committee for tonight, when the arrangements for what it is thought will be an all-time democratic rally will be made. It has been suggested that State Senator George A. Mushback shall preside over the meeting, and make the opening address, to be followed by Colonel Louis Bailey, the regular democratic nominee for the house of delegates. Arrangements will, as usual, be made for the ladies, who are generally very enthusiastic, and the entire success of the Opera House will be reserved for their use.

The 3d Virginia Regiment Field Band will be engaged to discourse music on the occasion.

Colonel Bailey will be opposed for the honor of the ladies by Mr. Horace Swann, who has announced himself as an independent candidate and who is making an active canvass.

Mutual Aid Society.

Dan Corbin, a well-known character, who figures frequently in the police court, is said to be organizing a mutual aid society. The members are to pay assessments of so much a week, and when one of them is arrested and fined the amount is to be taken from the fund and thus keep the offender from going to jail.

The City Council.

Tuesday night the first regular fall meeting of the city council will be held. There is much work of vast importance to the city to be disposed of during the coming winter, and it is hoped the progressive members will be able to be of as much benefit to the city as they have been in the past. It is believed that the opposition of the old fogies who oppose improvement.

C. The bride party will then leave for three weeks' tour, with Niagara Falls as the objective point.

New Express Agent Appointed.

The friends of Mr. Charles Geisendorff of this city, who has been acting agent of the Adams Express Company so efficiently and courteously since the death of Mr. R. H. Moore, regret to learn that he will not be permanently appointed, but that the position has been filled by the selection of Mr. J. H. Moore, who is a resident of Alexandria and has been appointed.

His Leg Broken.

The Central High School foot ball eleven was defeated in a game of foot ball by the Episcopal High School team, near this city, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 2 to 2. During the course of the game Mr. Craig Ainsley of this city, son of Mr. H. C. Ainsley, treasurer of the Southern Railway Company, who was playing on the team, was injured and his leg broken between the knee and ankle. Dr. Howard and Slaughter reduced the fracture.

MAYOR'S EFFORTS TO ERADICATE VICE

Opening of the Democratic Campaign Saturday Evening Next.

GENERAL AND PERSONAL

Evening Star Bureau, No. 529 King Street, Telephone No. 106.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., October 11, 1897.

It has been openly hinted at intervals lately that policy games have been again opened in their old haunts in this city, but no attempt has as yet been made to arrest any of the offenders. In fact, it is believed that many members of the police force are afraid to put their hands on the matter since Sergeant Smith and Officer Fergusson have been made to travel such a hard road on account of their policy raids of last winter.

It is known, however, that Sergeant Smith has been at work for some time gathering evidence against these policy men, and when the time is ripe they will be raided. Sunday liquor selling is also said to be on the verge of a raid.

This morning Mayor Simpson, who has all along been very lenient with the men, trusting that they would do their duty, decided to take a very firm stand. He has issued orders that each and every man shall commence at once to note anything of a suspicious character occurring in his beat, and a written report must be made to the mayor of these matters every Monday morning. If it be found that the officers overlook any important thing they will be shifted, and if the new man falls in the same case, then the matter will be reported to the board of police commissioners, and the mayor will advise a complete reorganization of the police force.

Mayor Simpson is determined that there shall be no policy playing, gambling or Sunday liquor selling during his administration, and he has several competent and efficient officers whom he is counting on to help him out in the matter. The mayor is highly commended for this action, and is believed by many that the evils complained of will never be stamped out until there is a reorganization.

There is plenty of good material on the subject, and the officers are said to be afraid, while others are believed to be under the control of the gambling element.

The Sunday Services.

The congregations in the various churches yesterday were larger than usual. In all except the Second Presbyterian the resident rectors officiated.

The pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church was filled by Rev. A. B. Saunders of Alexandria, the pastor, Rev. J. E. Thacher, being ill. At the evening services in the Methodist Protestant Church Rev. Frank T. Benson preached the first of a series of sermons on the subject, "The Closing Year of the Nineteenth Century—The Crisis of Manhood." It was listened to by a large congregation, and of these sermons will be preached every Sunday night.

At the railroad reading rooms services were held in the large auditorium yesterday afternoon. The reorganization of the formation of the institution, and there was a large crowd in attendance. Rev. S. A. Wallis, D.D., of the Virginia Theological Seminary, was the speaker. He was assisted by the Rev. J. H. Morgan, D.D., of the same institution. The students are aided very much in their work by a committee of young men known as the "reading room workers."

Police Court.

In the police court this morning Mayor Simpson disposed of the following cases: John O'Neil, vagrancy; thirty days in the chain gang. Eda Grooms, disorderly conduct; fined $2.50. Democratic Campaign.

The democratic campaign will open in this city Saturday night with J. Hoge Tyler, the democratic nominee for governor, as the principal speaker. Chairman O. F. Carter of the city democratic committee has called a meeting of the committee for tonight, when the arrangements for what it is thought will be an all-time democratic rally will be made. It has been suggested that State Senator George A. Mushback shall preside over the meeting, and make the opening address, to be followed by Colonel Louis Bailey, the regular democratic nominee for the house of delegates. Arrangements will, as usual, be made for the ladies, who are generally very enthusiastic, and the entire success of the Opera House will be reserved for their use.

The 3d Virginia Regiment Field Band will be engaged to discourse music on the occasion.

Colonel Bailey will be opposed for the honor of the ladies by Mr. Horace Swann, who has announced himself as an independent candidate and who is making an active canvass.

Mutual Aid Society.

Dan Corbin, a well-known character, who figures frequently in the police court, is said to be organizing a mutual aid society. The members are to pay assessments of so much a week, and when one of them is arrested and fined the amount is to be taken from the fund and thus keep the offender from going to jail.

The City Council.

Tuesday night the first regular fall meeting of the city council will be held. There is much work of vast importance to the city to be disposed of during the coming winter, and it is hoped the progressive members will be able to be of as much benefit to the city as they have been in the past.
